CLASS HISTORY

It is now June, the month of graduation and we must part from this wonderful spot, Watson High School, which we all love so well. Before parting, let us take a last, yet prideful look back four years ago.

Imagine that we are traveling on the road to Higher Education.

In the beginning of the fall of 1955, forty-four desirous Freshmen crowded into a guided missle propelled by Mr. W. C. Walker, our homeroom teacher, who led us through the stages of General Science. He was assisted by Mrs. Susie Thompson, who aided us through English I. Mrs. Sherman White taught us the fundamentals of how to fit in a society, under the subject Civics. Mrs. Alma Wilson improved our etiquette by touring with us in Home Economics I. At the fifth stage of our rocket Mr. George D. Hill, Jr., acquainted us with the importance of Mathematics. Mr. James McCormick, our music director, accompanied us to Wythville, Virginia, to participate in the annual district music festival. Our class officers were: Rosa Mack, President; Maralyn Straughter, Vice-President; Robert Humbles, Secretary; Betty Bolden, Treasurer.

In 1956, we climbed the rocket to orbit number two, we had lost twelve class members and gained one new one. Mrs. Susie Thompson was our homeroom teacher and she continued to guide us through English Hall II. She also took us through the thrilling hall of World History. Mrs. Wilson continued to brush up our etiquette through Home Economics. This year she taught cookery and clothing. The fashion show was a sensational event. Mr. Hill taught us the fundamentals of Algebra, while Mr. Walker toured with us through the testing grounds of Biology. Other activities in which members of the class participated were: Tri-Hi-Y, Dramatics, Glee Club, Science and Math Club, and Band. Our officers were Robert Humbles, President; Arthur Liggins, Vice-President; Theda Stewart, Secretary; Marva Smith, Treasurer.

Now came 1957, we lost five more class members. Our homeroom teacher, Mrs. Sherman White, taught the fundamentals of American History. Mr. Hill guided us safely through Algebra II and Mr. McCormick took us on a tour of English III. He also led us through the thrilling hall of French I.

There was cause for much excitement this year because there were two new subjects, shorthand and typewriting, taught by a new teacher Mr. J. O. Malone. Mrs. Wilson led us through the stage of Family Life, a subject field from which we learned many important facts about life and living.

The Junior Department of Home Economics held its annual Buffet Dinner. The Home Economics Department sponsored Girls and Boys Day, With Miss Joyce Wallace, speaker for the girls, and Dr. W. W. Johnson, Jr. speaker for the boys. The fashion show which is an annual affair was a bright success. Most of us were thrilled with our first prom. The homecoming and Daisy Dae and Lil Abner dances were successful. The class picnic at the Industrial Rayon was a gay event enjoyed by all. Our class officers were Theda Stewart, President; Jeanne Scott, Vice-President; Ida Goff, Secretary; William Harris, Treasurer; Arthur Liggins, Business Manager.

At last we reached the fourth and final stage of our orbit, which bore the sign SENIORS." Mr. George Hill, Jr.; an old friend opened the gate and let us in. This was our last year on the journey. We were in the midst of the Land of Education! Once inside we propelled the rocket and got a flying start with Mr. Hill behind the wheel. We went to Chemistryville where we met another old friend, Mr. W. C. Walker. Mrs. Wilson toured with some of us through Home Economics Hall IV. The Seniors were special guest of the Annual Buffet Dinner sponsored by the Junior Homemaking Department. This year's theme was the Mardi Gras. This year a new business course was added, General Business, taught by an old friend, Mr. J. O. Malone. Some of us met with him again in Shorthand II and Typing II. Mr. C. G. Brown led us through English IV and French II. These were thrilling subjects. Mrs. Susie Thompson toured with us the basic facts of getting a living through the Hall of Sociology. Last we toured with our driver, Mr. G. D. Hill, Jr., in American Government. Some of us went to Addison High School in Roanoke to attend College day. The Seniors had Freshmen week to greet the new Freshmen.

The seniors were special guest at the Junior-Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Class. The Senior Play was entitled "WHICH SHALL HE MARRY" under the direction of Messurs. George D. Hill, Jr., and Caleb G. Brown.

All our activities were successes. We are now striving forward to reach our goal, SUCCESS, and when we have attained this standard we shall always remember and thank--PARENTS, TEACHERS, CHURCHES, and the COMMUNITY.

Robert Nathaniel Humbles, Jr.

FAREWELL WATSON

Oh ever faithful Watson High
Joy marks our parting time
Every hour will be remembered
Everyone has certainly been fine.

We've spent those joyful years here
And we're ready for our life's way
We'll use the things we've learned here
We'll remember you every day.

The troubles will be our reminder
Our good deeds will be our staff
Our love will be our many cares
As progress is marked on our graph.

We're setting out in this old world
We're at the beginning of a strange road
So we hope the things we've achieved here
Will help us bare this heavy load

Farewell, Farewell dear old Watson High
As '58 marks our parting year
We really loved every moment with you
And we'll meet this world without fear.

PROPHECY

About the year 2001 as I was shopping through space, I decided to land on the moon to have my convertible "ROCKET SPACE SHIP" checked. I stopped at the "SMITH AND HARRIS PAINT AND BODY MISSILE STATION" owned and operated by William Harris, Charles and Joe Smith.

After having my ship checked, I flew over to Mars Hill, located on the Planet Mars to the "LARFINIA BEAUTY SALON," where I was given beauty treatment by the famous beautician of space Larfine Barber. There I read the latest novel written by the novelist and journalist, William Revely.

I then put on my space helmet hopped the nearest cloud and drifted over to "STAR CITY" to the fabulous "HOUSE OF GLAMOUR" to see my friend, the famous designer of garmets, Ida Goff.

Afterwards, I drifted over to the "HOUSE OF ARTS" where my portrait was painted by the famed artist Joseph Helton.

I returned to my ship. While gazing through my automatic TV--whom did I see but Rosa Lee Mack, singing her latest hit tune. I decided to drop by to see Rosa. There I saw an old school pal, Arthur Liggins, employed as the CHIEF TECHNICAL ENGINEER.

I then went over to the Jupiter Airport to meet my stenographer, Lula Tyler, who was returning from the Neptune Summit Conference. There I saw GENERAL JERRY CAUL of the Air Force, Rudolph Quarles, who was employed as an aviation engineer and Larry Branche employed as a pilot, operating flight 396.

I then decided to go over to the Zeus State Campus where I saw Jeannie Scott teaching Business Education, Norma Cashwell and Emily Davis teaching Elementary Education, Gilbert Waldron teaching Mathematics and Oliver Wright conducting the School of Upholstery.

From there I decided to visit the foreign fields on the vast lands of Pluto. There I saw my friend, Robert Humbles who was a missionary to the people.

I then visited St. John's Cathedral in Cloudsville. I saw and heard none other than the great concert artist as guest soloist, Jean Holloway.

Afterwards, I went over to the Metropolitan Opera House where I saw Warner Hunter conduct the symphony orchestra and heard none other Maralyn Straughter sing the role of "AIDA."

Having grown weary from the coolness of the day I set in orbit to Walter Reed Hospital located in the Little Dipper where my case was diagnosed by Dr. Marva Jean Smith and her Assistant Nurses: Cassandra Mack, Doris Umbles, Barbara Haskins, and Rebecca Pleasant.

As I decided to come back to earth, I stopped on the planet Neptune. There I visited Rose's Pharmacy where my prescriptions were filled by the well-known pharmacist, Thomas Rose

CLASS WILL

We, the 1958 Seniors of Watson High School, situated in the county of Alleghany, city of Covington, state of Virginia, do hereby bequeath to our Junior heirs, all that we have to give of our earthly possessions.

Doris Umbles leaves her waistline to Jo Ann Waldron. To Betty Cosby, Marva Smith leaves her beautiful shape. Maralyn Straughter bequeaths her vocal ability to Janett West. Thomas Rose leaves Elenora Fisher his initiative to be prompt. To Vincent Martin, Larry Branche wills his personality.

Rudolph Quarles bequeaths his jokes to George Cobbs. Robert Humbles leaves his height to Samuel Cobbs. Jeannie Scott wills her ability to stay in class to Lynn Harris. To Bernice Waldron, Ida Goff leaves her fredkles. Jerry Caul bequeaths his bass voice to Rodney Adams.

Cassandra Mack leaves her French and English grades to Eugene Persinger. Carolyn Ross is willed Jean Holloway's height. Charles Smith bequeaths to Maurice Rucker, his football jersey, Number 20. To Tazell White goes Arthur Liggins' girl troubles. Emily Davis bequeaths to Shirley Quarles her friendly personility. Norma Cashwell leaves her ability to stroll to Margaret Robinson.

We hope you'll make the best of these possessions, just as we did. Warner Hunter wills a mind full of reasons to William Holloway. To Warren Lemon, Joe Smith leaves his love-making. Rebecca Pleasant bequeaths her finesse to Doris Morgan, and to Barbara Blakey, Lula Tyler leaves her lips.

Larfine Barber leaves her ability to argue over anything to Margaret Gray. William Harris wants Lerory Brown to play football as he did. To Nathaniel Scott, Joseph Helton wills his running speed. Gilbert Waldron wills his mathematical "brain" to Cecil Fitzpatrick. William Revely hopes Jasper Goode will be able to dance after his dancing lessons are given. To Gretchen Woodfolk, Rosa Lee Mack leaves those beautiful "ham" legs, and Oliver Wright wills his desk to Matthew Menefee.

To the Juniors, we, the graduating class of 1958, wish much sucess, happiness and the best of everything.

Done by order of the Senior Class, June 12, 1958
